Pukeahu National War Memorial Park

Pukeahu National War Memorial Park in Buckle Street, Mt Cook, Wellington, is the Government's key project to commemorate the centenary of the First World War and will be the centrepiece of the 2015 Anzac Day ceremonies. To allow the park to be built, State Highway One was sent underground in a trench and tunnel constructed in 2013 and 2014.

The Memorial Park Alliance of NZ Transport Agency, Downer, HEB Construction,

Tonkin and Taylor and URS was formed to carry out the works.
